

V-Squared™ Panel Temporary Site Security Systems

Extraordinary solutions.

First Impressions...

You create them.

Not houses but homes of distinction. Commercial buildings that are anything but commercial. Events that are anticipated rather than simply attended. Each carries your signature, your brand.

Until now as a builder or event planner you have had few temporary site security choices. Finally there is a solution that adds more than security. One that makes a first impression that is...

worthy of your project.

Secure your next project with revolutionary V-Squared™ Panels.

Securing your construction or event site has become a necessity.

Rental fence is the obvious choice and now that choice includes V-Squared. The efficient patent pending design of V-Squared combines fresh clean styling and enhanced security with the convenience of a panel system.

Your project isn't ordinary...your fence doesn't have to be either.

Nesting

V-Squared Panels nest together greatly simplifying transportation and storage. Minimizing these costs make centralized sophisticated manufacturing viable resulting in consistent and superior quality.

Handling

Because V-Squared Panels are easier to handle, they install faster, enabling crews to better meet critical installation requirements and respond to tight deadlines.

Quality

The all welded and galvanized construction of V-Squared eliminates snagging, loose fabric, and sloppy or less secure connections common with traditional panels.

Security

Construction site theft is at all time highs. The V-Squared Panel's welded 2 3/8" mesh and periodic heavy four-gauge wire design makes it much more difficult to cut through.

Modularity

Panels provide the flexibility to remove or relocate sections of fence permitting temporary access to efficiently move equipment or access easements. V-Squared's easy handling design makes it that much simpler.

Aesthetics

The look of the V-Squared Panel makes an upscale statement with a clean updated look your clients or guests will notice.

Value

The V-Squared system offers these advantages and more, yet remains very affordable. Contact your dealer to find out more.

Impressions

"The event organizers were delighted with the way the fence turned out."

"...My customer loved the look of the fence."
